

Hi,

Often you may need to sell a motive motor or gearbox just by being requested by your client to give one identical to another that is already there, but, to do that, it is not enough to ask to the client what is written in the nameplate, because that product may have also some special features. The answer is now in our website

We have in fact added a new function to our web-site: Just input the serial number (for example 1802DG1140) in <http://www.motivemotors.it/final-test-report/index.php?lng=eng> and you will not just see the product main code, but also the list of the customizations which were added before going out of our factory.
